Capital Metro Peer Review Completed

CAMPO Peer Review Committee Releases Findings

Following a year-long process of stakeholder interviews, detailed study of performance indicators and financials, the peer review provides a comprehensive view of Capital Metro.

The study covers topics such as regional transportation planning, organization, governance, and funding sustainability; and makes recommendations to ensure that limited resources are being deployed efficiently and effectively to meet the challenges facing the region now and in the future. Both the entire report, and Capital Metro's response are available for download from the Peer Review Committee's website.
